

The first night shift complete

◀ A few slogans for warming up

The fountain lights up the activists in the middle of the night ▶

The young activists headed for the National Assembly to join their colleagues after holding their Youth Network meeting in Montreal

Day is breaking

The interviews continue in spite of the early morning hour

A welcome early morning visit

The law firm of Poudrier Bradet came to give the activists a coffee and some words of encouragement in order to show their support in the current negotiations. They expressed their admiration for the determination shown by the care professionals for promoting their demands which they feel are reasonable and fair.

Support from Canadian colleagues

Canadian Federation of Nurses Unions

“The 158,000 members of the Canadian Federation of Nurses Unions (CFNU) and the members of its National Executive Board support the measures taken by the FIQ to advance the needs of their members to enhance safe patient care through improved working conditions within a fair and respectful Collective Agreement”

Linda Silas, President

United Nurses of Alberta

“Once again, the nurses of Quebec are defending their profession and the future of care provided to the patients. Once again, the nurses of Alberta are behind you in complete solidarity. Your fight is also our fight. Your future is our future. We are beside you and on your side! The 24,000 nurses of Alberta wish you success.”

Heather Smith, President

AND THEY'RE OFF...

